

ABSTRACT

A motorcycle assembly affords a motorcycle rider with the easy accessibility to various personal items. A substantially planar structure is affixed either to a windshield support structure or to a rider's handlebars, such planar structure having at least one cup holder and at least one compartment, preferably a covered and latchable/lockable compartment, to facilitate storage of a rider's personal items.

J:\3912\2\patent app.wpd